“Season of mists and mellow fruitfulness,”

— John Keats

To Autumn

Nature, imagination and inward life

The Literary Compass follows the movement from eighteenth-century order towards Romantic feeling, nature and imagination. Literary history and key terms prepare students to explore poetry, narrative, essays and comedy.

The world of Gray, Blake, Keats, Shelley, Wordsworth and Coleridge meets the island life of Robinson Crusoe, the reflective essayists and Goldsmith’s She Stoops to Conquer. Tukaram, Surdas and the Bhagavad Gita extend the book’s inquiry into devotion, character and ethical conduct.

Literary ages and terms · Critical studies · Glossaries
Detailed summaries · Answered questions
MCQs · Passage explanations · Examination practice

THE LITERARY COMPASS · MGSU

The Literary Compass · SEMESTER II · Dr. Avinash Jodha

BA ENGLISH LITERATURE

SEMESTER II · NEP

The Literary Compass

A Complete Companion

Eighteenth-Century and Romantic Literature with Voices from India

BASED ON THE SYLLABUS OF
MAHARAJA GANGA SINGH UNIVERSITY

CHIEF EDITOR

Dr. Avinash Jodha

LITERARY STUDY · ANSWERED PRACTICE